Bell 206 206B JetRanger III TH-57 Helicopter Student FLIGHT TRAINING INSTRUCTION Manual

Synopsis

INTRODUCTIONThis Flight Training Instruction provides you amplifying information covering Confined Area Landings, Tactical Flight Maneuvers, External Load Operations, Pinnacle Landings, Search and Rescue Procedures, Shipboard Operations, Formation Flight, and Section Low-Level Navigation. You have to draw upon and apply the fundamentals you have learned from the previous modules of instruction to successfully complete this module. The concept of tactical operations and formation flight are the capstones of this stage. The objective of tactical operations is to show the versatility of helicopter operations within the fleet and various mission capabilities. The objective of formation flying is to employ and control multiple aircraft flying in close proximity to accomplish an assigned mission in a manner that will minimize the effectiveness of enemy opposition. SCOPEThis publication contains maneuvers introduced in the Formation and Tactics stages of the Advanced Helicopter Master Curriculum Guide. It is your responsibility to have a thorough knowledge of its contents.

Customer Reviews

I expected more about the 206. The sections on tactical and formation flying are not very applicable to civilian helicopter operations. Procedures for confined and pinnacle ops contain good info, but actual procedures and briefings are Navy specific. Ship ops were interesting, but also limited application for civilian ops.
